2303. SHRI EKANATH K. THAKUR: Will the Minister of FINANCE be pleased to state:

(a) whether the Reserve Bank of India has taken measures to register the Banking Codes and Standards Board of India (BCSBI) as an independent society, which will draw membership from banks and conduct field visits of banks; and

(b) if so, the details as to how the BSCBI propose to function and the positive effects it will have on customer service in banks?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF FINANCE (SHRI PAWAN KUMAR BANSAL): (a) and (b) Yes, Sir. The Banking Codes and Standards of India (BCSBI) has been registered as a Society on 20th February, 2006. The banks and Indian Banks 'Association, together would draw up the voluntary codes in general terms with respect to each bank. The codes will be followed by detailed rules, in respect of each of the codes. The banks will then register themselves as members with the Board under formal covenant, which would serve as a registration document. The Relationship Manager of the Board would provide feedback for the assessment of adherence by banks to the codes and standards through specific formats. In cases where there are serious concents, the Board could also take the assistance of tarms of auditors. After a thorough assessment ana on being satisfied of the deviations of the members from the codes and standards, the Board would take a final view after giving an opportunity to the concerned bank. The Board will be an organization, established to evaluate and oversee observance of a code of conduct by banks so that there is healthy and virtuous pressure on the banks to provide good customer service on par with best practices. This Board will work in the best interests of the entire banking system and the common person, as customer.
